

Lowery Homes

by: Pam Guyther

John Lowery's childhood dream of following in his father's footsteps is now a reality. Thomas F. Lowery Sr., a master brick mason and homebuilder, instilled in his son at a very young age a passion for quality and unique design.

After receiving a Bachelor of Science in Business Administration from the University of Alabama, John returned to Shelby County to help his father with his building company. He trained to become a REALTOR®, and soon passed the Builder Certification Course. Today, John is continuing his father's legacy, as well as creating one of his own. John, along with his brother and partner Thomas F. Lowery Jr., has built all types of homes, but each is distinctive because of the quality and craftsmanship that goes into each home. John's understanding that a home is more than four walls and a ceiling is evidenced by a level of excellence that exceeds expectations. Each home plan is maximized to include works of art such as dome, barrel, coffered and octagon ceilings. The homes feature arches, stained glass, gothic entryways, hand-painted domes and superior attention to detail at every turn. Lowery Homes Inc. was featured in the 2004 Parade of Homes in the Ballantrae subdivision, and the company was awarded the Gold Level for the home on Ballantrae Parkway.

Lowery Homes has certainly established a reputation for customer service among homebuyers. Customers come into subdivisions and ask to see a "John Lowery Home." Previous customers who have sold their homes return to Lowery Homes to build their new house stating that they don't want anyone else to build their next home. Ballantrae residents Robert and Beth Plummer state, "This is the best relationship with a builder we have ever had. There are so many nice things we can say about our new home and the experience." Paul and Dianna Howell, also residents of Ballantrae, love their new home as well. "We have been extremely happy with the quality and craftsmanship of our home. We love the unique design and immense amount of detail."

John works closely with Anita Latham at Re/Max First Choice in Pelham to discover new building opportunities. Re/Max not only represents John's interests, but his mother Sue Lowery and his sister Cathy Hamilton are his agents. John's brother-in-law Doug Hamilton is the master trim carpenter. Lowery Homes is truly a family business. ■
