

BUILDER PROFILE

John Lowery of Lowery Homes, Inc.

Lowery Homes Inc. has been building premiere homes in Shelby and Jefferson County for years, but the company has been in the making since John Lowery's childhood. John is the son of master brick mason and homebuilder, Thomas F. Lowery, Sr. By his father's side, he learned the art of brick masonry and home building. John attended the University of Alabama and received his Bachelor of Science in Business Administration. After college, John returned to Shelby County to help his father with his building company, trained to become a Real Estate Agent, and soon passed the Builder Certification Course. John's dream of continuing his father's legacy, and creating his own reputation has become a reality.

Lowery Homes, Inc., has built all types of homes, but each is distinctive because of the quality and craftsmanship that goes into each home. John, along with his brother and partner, Thomas F. Lowery Jr., maximize each home plan to include unique works of art such as dome, barrel, coffered and octagon ceilings. The homes feature arches, stained glass, gothic entryways, hand painted domes and superior attention to detail in every turn. Lowery Homes, Inc., was featured in the 2004 Parade of Homes in the Ballantrae subdivision. The company was awarded the Gold Level for the home on Ballantrae Parkway.

John and Thomas (Tommy) are also partners in a concrete wall company. T & J Walls, Inc. has been in business about a year, and is quickly becoming known in the construction business for outstanding work. T & J Walls' moto is "Quality Job, Professional People." The brothers started the concrete business to help in their own home building, but found it to be a challenging and rewarding endeavor. They look forward to building the concrete company and serving many local builders.

John works with Anita Latham at ReMax First Choice in Pelham to discover new building opportunities, and chooses where he builds very carefully. ReMax not only represents John's interest, but his mother, Sue Lowery, and sister Cathy Hamilton, are his agents. John's brother-in-law, Doug Hamilton, is the master trim carpenter. Lowery Homes Inc., is truly a family business.

John understands that "home" is more than four walls and a ceiling. He works to achieve a level of excellence that exceeds expectations.

"I know we must be doing something right when we have customers sell their home and want a second Lowery home to move into. Plus, customers come into a subdivision and ask to see a 'John Lowery Home'. It is then that I feel like we are accomplishing something and find my job the most rewarding," says John.

John takes pride in really taking care of his customers. That is why he provides an inclusive home maintenance plan for up to one year with each customer that surpasses many plans offered by his competition.
